Background & Experience

Career Summary: Tim Brent, former NHL hockey player, recently joined NAI Carolantic to pursue his longstanding interest in commercial real estate brokerage. His decision was the culmination of his involvement in various real estate investments over the past several years, including an investment/land transaction through NAI Carolantic that left him impressed by the team's knowledge and professionalism. Mr. Brent will focus primarily on investment sales and leasing working in conjunction with Chairman, Steve Stroud, SIOR. Background: Born and raised in Cambridge Ontario, Canada, Mr. Brent played hockey starting at age four, and moved up to play in Major Junior Hockey at the age of 16. He was drafted in 2002 to play for the Anaheim Ducks and continued to play professional hockey for 12 years, ultimately representing Canada in three different world hockey championship tournaments. As Captain of Team Canada in 2002, he successfully led his team to win a Gold Medal in the Czech Republic. In 2004, he was Assistant Captain of the Canadian team when they won a Silver Medal in Helsinki, Finland. During his hockey career, Mr. Brent played for the Anaheim Ducks, Pittsburgh Penguins, Chicago Blackhawks, Toronto Maple Leafs and the Carolina Hurricanes. In the AHL, he played for the Cincinnati Mighty Ducks, Portland Pirates, Wilkes Barre/Scranton Penguins, Rockford Ice Hogs, Toronto Marlies and the Lehigh Valley Phantoms. He also spent two seasons abroad playing in Magnitogorsk, Russia where his team won the Russian (KHL) Championship known as the Gagarin Cup.
